Soviets

UNITED NATIONS, The chief delegates from the United States and the Soviet Union clashed today in a debate over the six-year war Moscow is fighting in Afghanistan.

Vernon A. Walters, the American delegate, asserted that the soviet Union was using military terror and psychological manipulation to "break the Afghan spirit." but he added: "We are here today to witness that they have failed."

The Soviet delegate, Oleg A. Troyanovsky, defended the Soviet combat role as "internaitonal assistance to the people of Afghanistan." Mr. Troyanovsy, referring to American news reports that the Central intelligence Agency was conducting a major covert operation in Afghanistan, said "the undeclared war against Afghanistan, far from slowing down, is being expanded."

Liberia Leader Said To Have Crushed Coup Attemp

MONROVIA, Liberia, a former military commander tried to copple President Samuel K. Doe in a coup today, but Mr. Doe said he crushed the revolt 13 hours after it began in this West African nation.

Mr. Doe called on rebel holdouts to lay down their arms and proclaimed a dusk-to-dawn curfew.

"I take this opportunity to inform the nation that the coup has failed," Mr. Doe said in a "special statement" broadcast on a Monrovia radio station that had been taken over by rebel forces 13 hours earlier.

"I am still the commander in chief of the armed forces of Liberia and head of state," he said.

Diplomats in Monrovia had reported fierce fighting between loyal forces and Mr. Doe said in his broadcast that he was in firm control of the ocuntry and he called on the army, the police "all Liberians" to stand firmly behind him.

"Do not permit these rebels, these dissident forces to intimidate you or influence you," he said. "I also call upon those rebel soldiers and their supporters because we are in complete control of the situation. In order to continue to consolidate the situation and mop up the remaining scattered rebels, a dusk-to-dawn curfew is hereby imposed."

Doe's Popularity Said To EBB

General Quiwonkpa had claimed that he seized power in the predawn coup attempt. But Mr. Doe countered that loyal forces had crushed the revolt and killed 15 rebels. He said one loyal soldier was killed.

A Western diplomat in the capital said heavy fighting raged into the evening near the Executive Mansion and near Liberia's Radio Elwa.

United States Embassy officials said many Liberians were dancing in the streets in celebration of the coup attempt against Mr. Doe, who has become increasingly unpopular as a result of his harsh policies and elections last month that we won but critics say were rigged.

First word of the coup came before dawn when troops supporting General Quiwonkpa seized and held the radio station and appealed for support. But hours later an announcer said the station had been "seized" again and he urged people to "combat General Quiwonkpa."

Mr. Doe, supported by his personal guard and the first Army Battalion, which is led by his cousin, remained at the Executive Mansion.

"Quiwonkpa is not man enough to enter the mansion," Mr. Doe said.

Torture On Rise In Zimbabwe

LONDON, Amnesty International, the human rights organization, asserted today that there had been a sharp rise in Zimbabwe of incidents of arbitrary arrest and torture of opponents of Prime Minister Robert Mugabe.

In a report issued here, the organization said that a police internal security unit operating in the city of Bulawayo had been implicated in reports of torture that have become especially persistent since national elections in July.

The report estimated that more than 200 political detainees were held at a detention center known as Stops Camp and that at least 150 people had been subjected to arbitrary arrest since the election.

Detention without trial is permitted under a state of emergency in effect in Zimbabwe, but the report said that many prisoners were held incommunicado for prolonged periods without regard to the law.

Aids Patient Undergoing Experimental Treatment Dies

GRENOBLE, FRANCE, 'A Third Aids' patient undergoing experimental treatment in France with the drug cycloporine has died, the patient's docter announced today.

The doctor, Max Micoud, identified the patient as a 27-year-old man who had been treated with the drug for six days before his death on Saturday.

Dr. Max Micoud, Chairman of the infectious diseases department at the University Hospital Center at Grenoble, said in a statement that his team had found "no significant results" in the patient's condition following the treatments.

He called news reports about the treatment "embarrissingly midleading."

"We do not have the right to say things in this manner," he said. "We gave hope to people. We must now go back to scientific testing."

Dr. Phillippe Even, one of the Parisian doctors who first used cyclosporine on AIDS patients, said Monday that he had never asserted that the drug was an effective treament, and he said more testing was needed. "We said it was a reasonable hope for a cure," he said.

AIDS, or acquired immune deficiency syndrome, attacks the body's immune system. Nobody has recovered, and there is no vaccine or cure. Cyclosporine has been used for several years to prevent rejection in organ transplants

On Monday, Dr. Even and other members of his team disclosed that a 38-year-old man treated with the drug had also died Saturday.

In subsequent interviews Dr. Even said a third patient had died after two days of treatment with cyclosporine in early clinical tests last month, before the treatment was made public at a news confernce.

But Dr. Even said results from the treatment of nine other patients were promisingj and jthe program was being expanded to five other French hospitals. He said the number of patients would be increased to about 20.

Words Of Wisdom

ISAIAH 53: 1-12

WHO HATH BELIEVED OUR REPORT? AND TO WHOM IS THE ARM OF THE LORD REVEALED?

FOR HE SHALL GROW UP BEFORE HIM AS A ROOT OUT OF THE GROUND

HE HATH NO FORM OR COMILINESS: AND WHEN WE SHALL SEE HIM, THERE IS NO BEAUTY THAT WE SHOULD DESIRE HIM.

JOSHUA 6:1

Now Jericho was straitly shut up because of the children of Israel: none went out, and none came in:

And the Lord said unto Joshua, See, I have given into thine hand Jericho, and the King thereof, and the mightymen of valour:

And ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once: and seven priests shall bear before the ark seven trumpets of rams horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and the priests shall blow with the trumpets:

And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him:

And Joshua the son of Nun called the priests, and said unto them, Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the Lord:

And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him that is armed pass on befor the ark of the Lord:

And it came to pass, when Joshua had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns passed on before the Lord, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the Lord followed them:

And the armed men went before the priests that blew with the trumpets, and the rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and blowing with trumpets:

And Joshua had commanded the people, saying Ye shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout:

So the ark of the Lord compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp:

And Joshua rose early in the morning, and priests took up the ark of the Lord:

And seven priests bearing seven trumpiets of rams, horns before the ark of the Lord went on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them, but the rereward came after the ark of the Lord, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets:

And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did six days:

And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

And the city shall be accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the Lord. only Rahab the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent:

From The Desk Of The Publisher, Bishop D.L. Brooks, D.D.W.

PSALM 138: 1-7 & 139: 1-3

I will praise thee with my whole heart: Before the gods will I sing praise unto thee.

I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name for thy lovingkindness , and for thy truth: for thou hast magnified thy word above all thy name.

In the day when I cried thou answeredst me, and strengthenedst me with strength in my soul.

All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lord, when they hear the words of thy mouth.

Yea, they shall sing in the ways of the Lord: for the great is the glory of the Lord.

Though the Lord be high, yet hath he respect unto the lowly: but the proud he knoweth afar off.

Though I walk in the midst of trouble, thou wilt revive me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand against the wrath of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall save me.

The Lord will perfect that which concerneth me: thy mercy, O Lord, endureth for ever: forsake not the works of thine own hands.

O Lord, thou hast searched me, and known me.

Thou knowest my downsitting and mine uprising, thou understandest my thought afar off.

We welcome news of your church and civic events.

A Test For Black People

In seven frames, a cartoon by Feaman in the St. Louis American, s Black weekly newspaper, showed the story of two black men on a shopping and eating spree.

First, it was Chinese chicken; then Vietnamese duck; next was a Jewish auto parts store; a Korean cleaners; a palestinian deli; then savoring a pizza at an Italian restaurant; fianally, witnessing a holdup and shooting of the owner of a Black business.

As they fled, one asked: "Why is it that everybody can make a good living in the guetto -- BUT US?" Appropriately, the cartoon was entitled "Everybody's gold mine but ours?"

That comedy-of-facts has been matched by a real life tragic comedy in Columbus, Ohio where the nation's largest Black-owned supermarket has gone into bankruptcy. And along with it, 130 jobs and $25 million a year that would have remained in that African-American community of 135,000 went with Singletary PlazaMart's failure.

However, this Chapter 11 bankruptcy failure can be turned into a Black-community victory if Columbus Blacks act before Thanksgiving. Rick Singletary's predicament is no reflection whatsoever on his integrity or competence; it is squarely a failure of Black people (in this case with a lot of help from the White power structure of columbus).

The story is complicated and those who have engineered Singletary PlazaMart's imminent extinction are utilizing the confusion to their benefit. But the story can be told in plain old simple racist (and the Black self-hatred that results from it) terms.

After reviewing scores of news clippings and hours of conversation, I have pieced the story together. Rick Singletary opened up his $4.1 million superstore in August of 1984 after everything that can go wrong had gone wrong -- he thought.

When he presented his financial projections to the bank, Singletary, who worked for the Kroger Company for 15 years, expected to make a profit in 10 months. After all, the average Kroger store breaks even in about one-and-a-half years and a brand new Cub supermarket in Columbus does not expect to make a profit until 1938.

But because his loan was delayed for seven months, the interest on the equipment payment was $73,000 and another $27,000 went to pay for last minute changes. That ate up $100,000 of the $110,000 that the store had for operating capital. His cushion, or margin of error, was gone at the very beginning.

Then some of the Black people he had provided with jobs pilfered another $150,000 from gross receipts. That was followed by a mayor who killed a bailout package recommened by the city's own consultant who liked Plaza-Mart's prospects so much that he offered to guarantee the $560,000 bailout.

Henry Edwards, the consultant, is the owner of five Super Pride supermarkets located in Baltimore's inner city. A Black man, Edwards has opened up stores where the mayor chains will not; if anyone knows what makes a supermarket work in a Black area, Edwards does. the mayor of columbus obviously disagrees.

But the mayor's questionable behavior, followed closely by a potential White buyer turned up by a city official, guaranteed failure. On the heels of the mayor's action, came pressure from the bank.

After accepting a projection that showed a profit after 10 months, the bank wanted the Black business closed after only 16 weeks of operation. The bank then seized the store's inventory. for this role, the bank has been accused of using "Nazi" tactics.

Both the mayor and the bank president believe that any more money invested will be lost. But the state of Ohio used $120 million to save the Home State Savings Bank and the U.S. government saved Chrysler, which just declared record profits.

Most columbus Black leaders believe that racism played a major role in Plazamart's Chapter 11 banruptcy action. But Sinletary, although understanding of that fact, knows a bigger truth.

The bottom line, racism and White impatience notwithstanding, lies in a basic violation of economics by the Black community in Columbus. The mayor's actions and the bank's pressure could have been neutralized by Black spending power.

Instead, Blacks, who spend $2½ million for food each week in Columbus, spent only 5% with PlazaMart. AS a result, they stand to lose 130 jobs and $25 million.

But wait, there's a happy ending! With the help of ocal leaders and ministers, the Buy Freedom Drive is holding a rally at the Mershon Auditorium (on Ohio State's campus) on Tuesday, November 19 at 7PM. to get 20,000 Blacks to sign up as customers for PlazaMart along Mt. Vernon Ave. (Information: 614-253-4444)

Through it all, Singletary's prices have remained competitive with the big chains. All else has failed -- the name calling and the attempted financial bailouts. Not it's time to resort to the only thing that ever mattered: consistent financial support of 20,000 people a week at the PlazaMart -- up from the 12,000 it was getting before the bad publicity.

If Blacks in Columbus save this store, it will be a tremendous psychological boost and Christmas present for all African-Americans. Singletary has already lost his home and his life's savings.

But can save his business. It is now a test of our will to survive -- not racism's control over our lives.

But nobody can say it as eloquently as Ann Smith - e-Incas, head of the Neighborhood Development Corporation in columbus: "This store's registers must keep ringing, and only you can make that happen. The answer lies with you."

During the holiday season, nearly everyone hosts a party, a family dinner, or is asked to bring a dish to a holiday event. To make the foods you prepare this year more festive, try these easy ideas featuring versatile, economical dairy products.

Create attractive hors d'oeuvres by using your kitchen "gadgets" to cut cheese, vegetables and thin slices of bread. Use a pastry crimper to give finger sanwiches a fluted edge. Cut them into rectangles, triangles or circles.

A melon ball spoon will make delightful little domes of cheese to set atop crackers or thin slices of cucumber or zucchini. Mild cheeses such as monterey jack and medium cheddar are easiest to shape.

Small cookie cutters cut festive shapes from thin slices of cheese. Place a piece of yellow cheese on one of white and then cut shapes. Set on dark rye bread round and top with a coiled anchovy or a slice of green olive with pimiento.

To make cheese "cups", cut out two slices of bread with a round cookie cutter. Butter the bottom slice. Remove the inner circle of bread from the top slice and place it on the buttered piece. Fill with room temperature herbed cream cheese using a pastry bag with a large star tip. You can also fill the cups using a teaspoon.

A dollop of sweetened sour cream provides a tangy topping for pie. Stir in one tablespoon of confectioner's sugar, brown sugar or honey for each cup of sour cream.

Prepare dollops of whipped cream in advance and freeze them for use on cakes, pies, hot chocolate and other holiday treats. To sweeten and slightly stiffen the cream, add one tablespoon of confectioner's sugar per cup. Pipe or spoon onto a cookie sheet and freeze until firm. Remove from cookie sheet and store in a plastic bag. Set on desserts and allow to thaw for approximately 15 minutes before serving.
